

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1921

Who Holds the Aces, Harvard or Y.

FIGHT FOR THE BLUE THIS AFTERNOON AGAINST HARVARD

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1921

Which Will Suffer Disillusionment?

FACES YALE FOR THE KICK-OFF IN THE STADIUM

St. Paul's Catholic
Officers 1920-

FOR PRESIDENT

J. P. McAdams, '21

F. J. Sweeney, '21

C. A. Tierney, '21

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

J. M. Maloney, '22

J. J. Toohey, '21

FOR TREASURER

H. F. Bruen, '22

M. J. Ford, '22

E. F. Goode, '22

C. V. Ryan, '21

FOR SECRETARY

V. J. Girardi, '21

H. W. Quinlan, '22

J. W. Redmond, '22

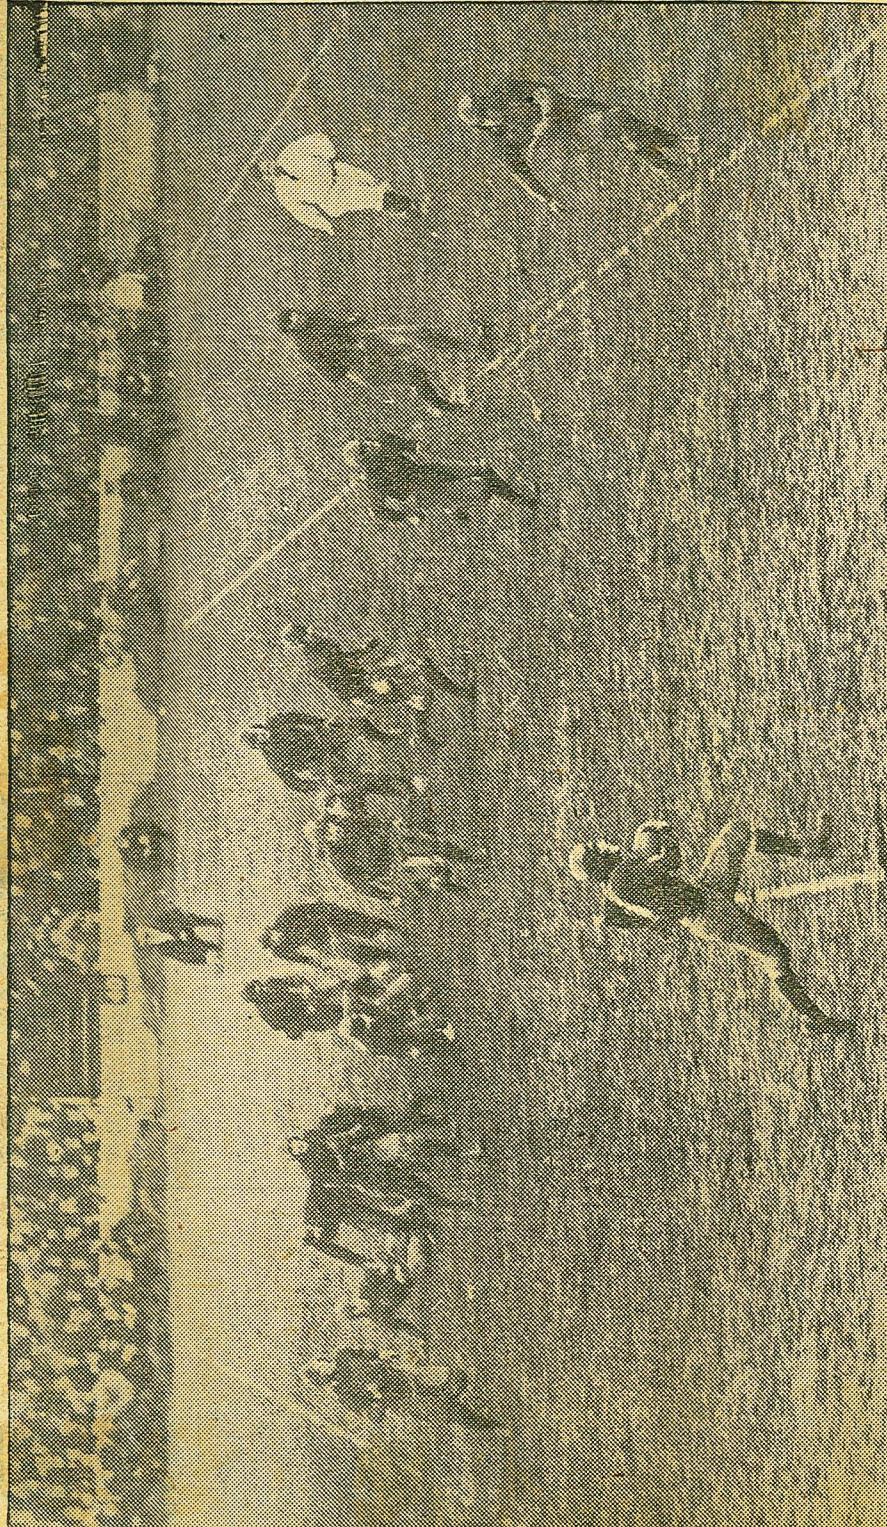

FOR LIBRARIAN

F. Comerford, '23

W. J. Gallivan, '23

J. E. Kennedy, '23

YALE'S DOUGHTY LEADER IN TYPICAL DASH TOWARD HARVARD GOAL

THE CRIMSON PACK IN FULL CRY AFTER THE BLUE FOX
Well Along in the Third Period of Saturday's Stadium Classic Capt. Malcolm Aldrich, Receiving the Ball on His Own 40-Yard Line, Turned the Crimson Left Wing and Spurted, and Side-Stepped His Straight-Arm Way for 20 Yards Before Being Tackled by Charley Tierney. Aldrich Gave the 55,000 Fans Many a Similar Thrill. It Was on This Play that Macomber, When About to Attempt a Tackle of the Popular Eli, Ran Kerplunk Into the Bulky Form of Referee "Tiny" Maxwell. That Aldrich is So Far Away from the Spot Where the Play Started and from the Harvard Forwards Attests to His Remarkable Quickness In Getting Up Steam

Mac
Kane
Hubl
Clar
Brow
Tier
Croc
Buell
Owe Cobu
Fitts.

BY Sp
Yale
favor
years,
gle w Nev
currer
Harva
Son
Often tune answe
jersey
Blue-fough
the r end o
said,
up the certai
Yale

its ur inspir
after Harva

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1921**

YALE IS FAVORITE BUT HARVARD IS CONFIDENT

Bulldog Holds the Odds in Today's Contest, But Crimson Supporters Rely Upon the Forward Pass and the Teams "Punch" to Win

CAPTAIN KANE OF HARVARD

CAPTAIN ALDRICH OF YALE

STADIUM LINEUP TODAY.

HARVARD

Macomber, l e	YALE
Kane, l t	r e, Sturm
Hubbard, l g	r t, Diller
Clark, c	r g, Guernsey
Brown, r g	c, Landis
Tierney, r t	l g, Cruikshank
Crocker, r e	l t, Into
Buell, q b	l e, Hulman
Owen, l h b	q b, O'Hearn
Coburn, r h b	r h b, Mallory
Fitts, f b	l h b, Aldrich
	f b, Jordan

The game will begin at 2 P. M. Gates will open at 12 noon.

BY HOWARD G. REYNOLDS

Sporting Editor Boston Post

Yale enters the Stadium today a favorite, for the first time in 10 years, for its annual gridiron struggle with Harvard.

Nevertheless there is an undercurrent of feeling in the air that Harvard will come through and win.

Sometimes favorites come through. Often they don't. To which Fortune will swing today cannot be answered until after the Crimson-jerseyed warriors of Harvard and the Blue-shirted fighters of Yale have fought it out on the field of play and the referee's whistle blows for the end of it all. But this much can be said, Harvard is determined to chew

SHOWED UP WELL IN
CLASH WITH BROWN RIMSON AND BLUE

REST ON EVE OF B

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1921
AND BLUE REST ON EVE OF B

CHARLES A. TIERNEY,
Harvard's Substitute Center.

ARDS HOPES ARE HIGH. On this quartet of stars rests the hopes of the right side of the line; George Owen, the Harvard in the great gridiron classic inside the Stadium tomorrow. At to right are Charlie Tierney, tackle, whose sturdy worth is the mainstay of the right side of the line; George Owen, the reliable toe, and Capt. Keith Kane, po stay of the right side of the line; George Owen, the reliable toe, and Capt. Keith Kane, po

HARVARD TEAMS RALLY BY GAME HARVARD TEAM PULLS OUT WONDER VICTORY OVER YALE,

OWEN SMASHING THROUGH YALE ON DELAYED PASS, CARRYING BALL TO BLUE'S FOUR-YARD LINE AND MAKING TOUCHDOWN

SHOWED UP WELL IN CLASH WITH BROWN RIMSON AND

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1921

BLUE REST ON EVE OF B

CHARLES A. TIERNEY,
Harvard's Substitute Center.

ARDS HOPES ARE HIGH. On this quartet of stars rests the hopes Harvard in the great gridiron classic inside the Stadium tomorrow. At right are Charlie Tierney, tackle, whose sturdy worth is the mainstay of the right side of the line; George Owen, the reliable toe, and Capt. Keith Kane, po fit to right are Charlie Tierney, tackle, whose sturdy worth is the mainstay of the right side of the line; George Owen, the reliable toe, and Capt. Keith Kane, po

HARVARD TEAMS RALLY BY GAME HARVARD PULLS OUT WONDER VICTORY OVER YALE, OWEN SMASHING THROUGH YALE ON DELAYED PASS, CARRYING BALL TO BLUE'S FOUR-YARD LINE AND MAKING TOUCHDOWN